The Lewisville City Council commends Dr. Jaime Baxter-Slye for earning the 2026 Educator Outstanding Performance Award from Texas Recreation and Park Society.

This award recognizes an educator who advances the field through research, teaching, and the sharing of knowledge with parks and recreation professionals.

Dr. Jaime Baxter-Slye of the University of North Texas was honored for her hands-on ecological education, student-led research and restoration projects, and her partnerships with local communities, including the City of Lewisville and the Lewisville Lake Environmental Learning Area.
